

IDEAS.

Every deed is a seed.
Kindness is the master key to all hearts.
Those things are not worth seeking that are not worth keeping.
A good push will scare the devil more than a whole lot of preaching.

TAKE NOTICE.

Next Sunday, at 11 A. M., Rev. A. E. Thomson, at the Parish House, will preach a sermon on missions. The occasion will be used to secure a large collection for the purpose of helping in the support of Miss Hallie Fee Embree, Berea's missionary in South America. It is hoped that contributions and pledges to the amount of one hundred dollars may be secured for this most worthy object.

FROM THE WIDE WORLD.

Signor Rosano, the new Italian Minister of Finance, committed suicide.
Two German warships were sent to Santo Domingo to safeguard German interests.

United States marines were landed on the isthmus to protect the lives and property of American residents.

The amount of cotton ginned from the growth of the present year, up to October 18, is placed at 3,839,627 bales.

The Mormon Church purchased the old jail at Carthage, Ill., in which Joseph Smith, the prophet, was killed by a mob.

The Fifty-eighth Congress began its session Monday, taking up the Cuban Reciprocity treaty as the first legislative business.

John Alexander Dowie held his final meeting in New York Sunday night. He has established a church in New York and says he will return in two years.

The United States has recognized the government of the new republic of Panama which so lately seceded from Columbia. U. S. senators and other public officials who are favorable to the Panama route for the canal across the isthmus are in favor of treating with this new government direct, and negotiations are already on foot looking to this end.

Sanford B. Dole, ex-governor of Hawaii, reports that the production of sugar in the Islands continues to increase while that of rice has fallen off, owing to the new rice fields in Texas and Louisiana. The population of the Islands is very mixed, being made up of no less than ten different nationalities, several of which are more numerous than the Americans.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY.
The interurban electric road between Lexington and Paris has been opened for business.

The Belknap Campaign.

THE CITIZEN stands for the welfare of the people as a whole, and belongs to no religious sect or political party. In the campaign just closed we have believed that the conscientious Democrats and Republicans who were supporting Belknap were in the right, and we fear the progress of the State is permanently retarded by their defeat.

It was the triumphant remark of Goebel that he had made a law that would render it forever impossible for the Democratic machine to be defeated in Kentucky. Certainly the absolute control which that machine has makes it exceedingly hard to defeat it.

Nevertheless the campaign just closed shows clearly that Kentucky can be redeemed.

On the part of the supporters of Belknap, it was a fair, clean, honorable campaign, and their opponents were entirely driven from the field so far as reason and argument were concerned.

In campaign management the Belknap forces were unfortunate. They were not up to the election tricks of their opponents, and were not prepared for the violence which was resorted to at various places. They must learn from this campaign how to organize, and how to be ready to prevent fraud and violence.

And they were unfortunate in the illness that kept Bradley and other good speakers out of the fight.

But the methods of the Goebel-Beckham crowd cannot permanently prevail. With what has been learned in this campaign the Republicans and conscientious Democrats may feel sure of success the next time the voting booths are set up in Kentucky.

Governor Beckham.

It seems that Mr. Beckham is again to be de facto governor of Kentucky. We believe that for him to occupy that office is a violation of the Constitution of the State, that he has been a tool of the worst element of the Democratic party, and that his election was secured by considerable violence and fraud.

Nevertheless if he sits in the chair we shall honor him because of his position, and hope for an improvement in his official conduct. We shall be anxious to see all the good possible in his administration. We shall stand by him in anything he may do for the public welfare. If he does it well and promotes the prosperity, peace and progress of the State, we shall be even more rejoiced than if he had originally been the man of our choice.

The Political Outlook.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9, 1903.—Special to THE CITIZEN.

Those here who make an impartial estimate of the results of the recent elections agree that the party honors were about evenly divided, and that Senator Hanna, Senator Gorman and Representative Hearst have achieved the personal victories, as far as national politics are concerned. The big Republican majority in Ohio is attributed to Senator Hanna, who was the real issue of the campaign and bore the brunt of the contest, and is regarded as a death blow to the political aspirations of Tom Johnson.

The success of the Democrats in Maryland is credited to Senator Gorman, who took a very active part in the end of the campaign. There is no doubt that the Maryland Senator has increased his power in the Democratic party, and consequently his chances of leading it in the presidential campaign.

In New York, Tammany succeeded in making the municipal campaign a party contest, and the Democrats won by a majority so large as to warrant them in believing they may carry the State next year. Tammany was opposed by the entire press of the city with the exception of the Hearst papers which did everything possible to aid the party which sent Hearst to Congress, and which he hopes will aid him in getting to the White House.

Farmers' Institute.

The Farmers' Institute last Saturday proved a very pleasant and profitable affair in spite of the fact that the fine corn gathering weather kept many farmers at home. The paper on "Tile Drainage," by Hon. C. L. Searcy, of Waco, and the discussions by Mr. Herndon, Prof. Dodge, and others who had tried this improvement, showed how great a gain is waiting the holders of wet, sour lands. "Some Methods of Soil Improvement" by Prof. Mason, and a talk on "Silos and Ensilage," by Mr. Hamilton, brought out discussions enough to keep the time fully occupied till noon, when the lunch baskets and the baked beans, coffee and doughnuts served by the cooking class girls awakened even more lively interest than the papers had done.

At the joint meeting in the afternoon the address of welcome by Pres. Frost, and response by Hon. Wm. B. Smith, of Richmond, were full of lively hope and prophecy for the future of industrial education in making the most of not only Kentucky farms but of farmers' boys and girls.

Prof. Dodge, in a very happy vein, spoke of "Brains in Secular Affairs," and showed that commodity to still be at a premium in most of the common pursuits of life.

The paper, "The Home and the School," by Mrs. Jennie L. Hill, set forth still more clearly the gain to come from an education fitted to the needs of the future housekeepers and homemakers. "How the Farmer can grow better Fruit Trees" was told by Mr. W. L. Flannery in such a clear way with the aid of charts and specimens that almost any farmer might become his own nurseryman with a little practice.

Throughout the day's program the music by the College band and by the male quartette was a feature highly appreciated by all. We predict that the next invitations to a Farmers' Institute will bring out far greater numbers.
